The Seeking

It all started 250 years ago when a meteor called the Core crashed on Earth. It was the main power source of the Citadel, which is the ship of the robots. They located it on Earth, so they looked for it, but couldn't find it. They decided to destroy Earth to look for it, and to this day, they are still destroying the Earth, my family and I are searching for more supplies, “it's getting rough out here” my older brother Shawn said “ya it is really rough almost every week we go out here searching for supplies” i respond. as my friend Ethan came to help, i decided to split up in groups “Gabe one of the robots ambushed us” Ethan shouted. “We got thru but your older brother got a huge bruise on his forehead” he continued. even tho it was painful, there was no time to help him as more could come any second. “were not safe, not out here or inside” my Dad said. We got back together and continued our search running as fast as we could and grabbing anything we could until we reached an abandoned building. Ethan spoke up in a solemn voice, “By the way were not splitting up again”. we decided to camp here for the night. in the morning Ethan and i woke up everybody as we have to move fast. you never know what can happen, at least not out here. “i only got 2 hours of sleep” Jake, the youngest, complained, “i need way more then 2 hours!” Jake continued. My dad just said to deal with it. we were as tired as he was. “Shoot!” Ethan yelled “theres a group of robots up ahead” i screamed hide. as they were coming to our location i laid under a few beds with Ethan and Shawn i had no idea where my mom, dad, and Brother Jake were hiding but i hope there safe. Ethan said i was lucky i even had a family in the first place.

After 2 hours of hiding we were finally in the clear to continue moving. Ethan asked when are we going to eat, my older brother respond with in about 30 minutes it all depends on if one of those robots come after us or not, “We've been out here for like a day now and we barely have enough to even feed all of us in the first place” my older brother said “so we need to find more food supplies before we even think about eating” he continued, “wait” ethan said “didn't you guys grab a backpack?” my mom responds with yes but she doesn't know who has it, i told them that i had it i was told to check for any food supplies in there so i did, “there's only a can of beans and about a cup of yogurt” i said “can you guys grab some sticks i need to start a fire so we can cook the beans” my older brother said, we didn't have any sticks so Ethan left to collect some we don't know when we will see him again if we see him that is. We were in a quiet area so not too many robots go here so we could camp here for longer then last time. It's been 4 days now and Ethan still hasn't come back with the sticks. Maybe he's getting food, maybe the sticks are heavy? All I know is it's not long before a robot comes so i hope he comes back soon. My older brother has been sleeping for 8-10 hours a day, most of my family has, its sleep we haven't gotten in weeks, months. i don't know how long it has been since we got good sleep.

This morning shawn woke me up and said we have to move now i spotted a group of robots nearby. As i was watching the robots to see if they were coming i saw Ethan with a bunch of Logs and food. I gave him hand signals telling him to watch out for the robots that seem to be coming closer every second Gabe threw a rock at a large building close to the robots causing them to investigate the sound. “Ok now is the time to start moving before they come back” Shawn said we sprinted as fast as we could but Ethan was carrying so much he couldn't run. We had to keep running. The robots have spotted him and took him nobody knows where he's going.

The Citadel: “Let me go!” Ethan screamed “now now we've only just started” The head robot T.H.R said. “put him down” T.H.R ordered, “i've heard your a engineer and coder is that right?” T.H.R asked. Ethan respond in a scared voice yes it is “good so you can make more advanced robots?” T.H.R continued “do i even have a choice” Ethan said. No you don't so make the robots now! T.H.R respond “if they work we will release you for now” T.H.R said in a strong voice

Were all wondering if Ethan is ok or not we hope he is. We've been starving for weeks “i found somewhere we can camp for a bit come over here” Shawn shouted. We all got great sleep tonight

The Citadel: “i'm going to make a remote control for this” Ethan whispered. A few hours later Ethan was done it was only 1 robot but he tried his best. “Its only 1 robot but it has laser eyes and advance tracking systems with code that lets you connect to it whenever you want” Ethan said. T.H.R had to keep his “Promise” with Ethan so he's safe for now but T.H.R doesn't know about the remote Ethan has.

It's been a month since we've seen Ethan our hope of him coming back is getting smaller and smaller every day. The area were in has almost everything on fire shawn keeps trying to cook the beans but each time a robot comes near him. And the yogurt is almost gone. Probably because we've been sharing from youngest to oldest the youngest is always the greediest. “I found Ethan!” Jake shouted. “hey guys i made it out” Ethan shouted. but right behind him was the robot he made. he decided to take it as he was leaving “hey Ethan there's robots right behind you” Shawn yelled “i know, im controlling them using my remote see?” Ethan replied “we can use them to fight the robots that come after us” Ethan continued. Ethan decides to show them an example by making one of them carry him and fly him over to me and the others “look i'm going to make 1 of them fly me to you guys ok!” Ethan shouted. Like he said 1 of the robots flew him to me and the others “that was cool!” Jake shouted “do me next!” he continued. While they were chatting they had no clue that the ship was moving above them while robots where coming surrounding them in a circle. “Uh oh! The ship moved its above us and robots are surrounding us!” Gabe and Shawn shouted. Ethan took this as a time to see what the robots can do. “Guys move out the way i'm using the laser eyes!” Ethan said. In seconds the robots were destroyed in parts that for some reason Shawn decides to put them in my Backpack. When we asked shawn, he said that maybe Ethan can build more. Ethan wasn't so sure about that it took him a long time. at least they were safe for now.

When we were walking when Gabe spotted a fridge inside a destroyed house. We decided to check for food or anything inside the fridge and house. We found 3 warm bottles of water and to loafs of bread but 1 of them was super moldy and was starting to rot so we didn't take the other one because most of us thought both of them were rotting. But we did take the warm water bottles. “We should check destroyed houses like this one more often” Shawn said “Shawns right i mean look at the stuff we found i don't even remember what water taste like heck does water even have a taste?” Gabe said. “I don't think i dose have a taste” Shawn explained. It doesn't really matter if it dose or not i said in my head what matters right now is that were safe and we have water. And water helps a lot just 3 days ago we finished the last drop of the water we packed so we were lucky to find the water or else we would of died due to lack of water. As soon as we left i started carefully siping the water trying not to waste it all but getting a good amount for the day. “How about we take 1 sip per day to save the water” Shawn said. “Thats what ive been doing” Gabe said. “By the way it's only 3 bottles so Jake and Ethan will share Mom and Dad will share me and Shawn will share now we all have water” Gabe said. It was getting late so they decided to find a quick spot to take a nap as they were tired from running and walking.

The next day we were woke up to the sound of explosions and Ethan wasn't in bed. We thought Ethan was fooling around with his robot but we were wrong. “Guys is Ethan fooling around with his robot?” Shawn asked “I think he is” i responded but when we took a look outside we saw Ethan fighting some other robots Shawn asked what was happening and Ethan said that there was robots attacking us while we were sleeping he was the only one awake when this happened. About 3 waves of robots came. Each wave had 10 robots total. “Please don't tell me they destroyed your robot” Shawn said in a scared voice. “no but they managed to badly damage the arm and trackers in the head” Ethan sadly said. We were lucky tho because Shawn had some materials to fix it. We took the parts that Shawn put in the backpack and also took some parts from the three waves of robots and we managed to not only fix it but upgrade with 4 working arms with 2 of them equipped with plasma lasers and 4 trackers in each eye making this robot the best of the best. The best part is: Ethan managed to remove the chip that gives T.H.R full access to the robot whenever he wants. “Hey guys what should i do with this motherboard, it's the one the gave T.H.R access to my robot” Ethan said. “Hmm... i think you should make the worst robot ever like dont even give it eyes or legs and put the motherboard in there” Shawn said.

“No, since T.H.R. can control it, he might repair himself, which could result in a better robot that will destroy us and our robot,” Ethan said. “So just shred it,” I said. Ethan used the remote to command the robot to shatter the motherboard into pieces. “Aww man, I wanted to make a little orb bot,” Shawn said. “That’s just ridiculous and weird,” Gabe said. “Geez, you don’t have to be mean,” Shawn said. “Forget everything that just happened. Let’s just continue walking,” Ethan said. “Okay, let me get ready and grab my stuff,” Gabe said. Thirty minutes later, Ethan, Gabe, Shawn, and Jake were walking to look for more supplies when they saw a drone. It was made to hunt them after T.H.R. sent those waves of robots. After T.H.R. found out that three waves of robots were destroyed, the drone spotted them. “Duck!” Gabe shouted. Gabe, Ethan, Shawn, and Jake ducked. “Ethan, use your robot!” Gabe said. Ethan used his robot to laser the drone, but the drone dodged the laser and shot back a laser. The robot tried to dodge the laser, which unfortunately severely damaged the robot, but Ethan continued firing lasers at the drone. Only one hit the drone, sadly it didn’t do much damage to it but it exposed the motherboard. As they were about to give up, Gabe got an idea. He grabbed a rope and wrapped one side around the drone and tied the other end to a metal pole. Gabe told Ethan to fire again, and this time it was a direct hit To the exposed motherboard!

As it slowly fell down, Ethan used his robot to disconnect the motherboard and destroy it into pieces. After, Ethan decided to use the parts from the drone to repair the robot. The drone had really useful parts like: 2 trackers, 2 Plazma Lasers, and Thick Sheets of metal. Ethan used the metal to repair any parts of the robot that he could fix. “Could someone pass me the trackers?” Ethan shouted. “Here you go!” Shawn said. Ethan took the trackers and grabbed the chip and camera from them. After taking out the chips and the cameras that were inside the trackers, he used the metal the base of the trackers had to fix any other parts of the robot. Then he took 1 of the chips and 1 of the cameras and put it on the arm. After he was done, he did the same with the other ones. The chips went inside the arms and connected to the motherboard and to the lasers. The cameras laid outside on the arm. This gave the arms a better tracking advantage, which became useful later on. After the upgrades, we ran thru a field of reced and destroyed robots. I decided to take some of the parts in the field while the others questioned the mess, trying to figure out what had caused this. “Hmm... maybe there's others out there like us,” Jake said in a quiet voice. “There could be others, we don't know for sure.” I finished collecting as many parts as I could as they finished their conversation. “Hey guys, I got some parts. Maybe next time we decide to camp, we can repair/add things to the robot,” I said.
